

OVERSEAS APPLICANT REGISTRATION PORTFOLIO FORM: Part C

CASE STUDY

The case study should demonstrate the applicant's knowledge and understanding of counselling theory, such as a particular counselling model or framework, and its application to practice. The rationale for the application of a particular counselling approach should be justified.

Please note there is a limit of 2000 words (not including references). There is 10% flexibility on this word limit, i.e. the absolute maximum that will be accepted is 2200 words, with a lower limit of 1800 words.

The referral letter, pedigree, case note summary and any letters should be available if requested for viewing by the Sign-Off Mentor.

ESSAY

Please submit a 2000 word essay/reflective piece (10% flexibility), which reflects on the different health systems and related agencies between the country of training and the UK. An awareness of UK genetic counselling practice should be demonstrated, to include a documentation of how the individual handles a clinical case, discussing cultural awareness, ordering of genetic tests and the process of referral. A Master's level of academic writing must be demonstrated throughout.
